Plans for the summer season of 1951 at the Recreation park, including a number of major improvements, were discussed by the board of directors of the Recreation Association at a meeting held Monday night in the law offices of Swope, Brown and Swope. Vice President Glenn L. Bream presided in the absence of the president, Attorney Richard A. Brown.

Among the improvements suggested for next year by Donald Joseph, director, were tennis courts, midget baseball field, a picnic area, horse-shoe courts, outdoor theater or band shell, comfort station and possibly a new model airplane circle, if interest in this project continues.

The directors voted an endorsement of the Softball association's plans for a campaign to raise money for a new grandstand, and William (Johnny) Knox said a comfort station probably would be built underneath the stand.

Referred To Committee

The 1951 extension program was referred to the planning committee with instructions to submit a report at the January meeting.

Mr. Joseph reported that the new baseball diamond was seeded this fall. Particular tribute was paid to Henry T. Bream, head coach at Gettysburg college, for his work in supervising the building of the baseball diamond, and to Rogers Herr, manager of the team.

Vice President Bream appointed the same baseball committee for 1951, Henry T. Bream, Ira Plank and himself.

Mr. Joseph reported that the American Legion is considering sponsoring the model airplane project and is considering the erection of a monument.

WORK AMONG CRIPPLED KIDS IS DESCRIBED

"Tragedy comes not in being crippled but in being considered useless," T. Henry Jablonski, field director for the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children and Adults, told members of the Gettysburg Lions club Monday evening as he described the society's work and showed a colored motion picture film made at Camp Daddy Allen where handicapped youngsters are trained each summer.

Mr. Jablonski told briefly of the fourfold program of the state crippled children's society of which the Adams County Society for Crippled Children is a part: "Our aim is to care for, educate, give treatment to and find useful employment for the handicapped of this state," he said.

Explaining that one of every six citizens of the United States has some physical handicap, the speaker said that polio accounts for nearly a fifth of the cases and another fifth are cerebral palsy cases—and the latter group is receiving special attention now with 23 treatment centers already in operation in the state. He said surveys show there are 12,000 cerebral palsy cases in Adams County.

Peace Plan Proposed To UN By India To End Korean War

Lake Success, Dec. 12 (AP)—India's Sir Benegal Rau laid before the United Nations today a plan designed to halt the fighting in Korea and resolve other Far Eastern problems.

In presenting the plan for a group of Asian and Middle East countries, Rau said he was convinced from his talks with Chinese Communist Envoy Wu Hsiu-Chuan that the Peiping government wants peace. He warned, however, that the Chinese people seem to be moving toward a sort of Monroe (hands off) doctrine for the Far East.

Rau proposed that the Chinese Reds be given a direct voice in settling outstanding Asian problems after the basis for a cease-fire in Korea is worked out.

The Middle East-Asian plan was embodied in two resolutions worked out in a series of closed-door conferences just before the political committee met this morning. Rau asked for top priority consideration of the proposals.

The committee overrode Soviet opposition and decided to begin debate at once on the new proposals. The vote was 48 to 5 (Soviet bloc) with four abstentions. Ecuador, Turkey, Thailand and Nationalist China abstained.

The resolutions were transmitted to the State department immediately by the U. S. delegation. A spokesman said the delegation would not comment until it had received high-level reaction from Washington.

Almost All Of North Korea Abandoned To Red Forces; Allies Back To 38th Line

Tokyo, Dec. 12 (AP)—Some 27 Chinese Communist Divisions—including 8,000 to 14,000 fierce Mongolian Cavalrymen—today pressed menacing feelers toward South Korea after driving the bulk of the United Nations forces from the north.

Shaggy little Mongolians ponies and supply caravans of two-humped camels such as the mediaeval conqueror Genghis Khan used centuries ago gave bizarre but effective mobility to the vanguard of Red China's 1,000,000-man force as it streamed unopposed over almost all of North Korea.

In the west, the bulk of the Allied Eighth Army had withdrawn to Parallel 38, the old boundary between North and South Korea.

In the northeast, most of the U.S. 10th Corps was huddled on the Hamhung coastal plain. This force was 130 air miles deep in Red Korea, but it was surrounded by Communist forces and the road south was blocked. At the nearby port of Hungnam, a U.N. fleet was standing by in readiness to evacuate the encircled 10th Corps.

An American Army Regiment, the Seventh Division's 17th that once stood on the Manchurian border, was somewhere in the frozen wasteland and presumably withdrawing toward Hungnam. Its movements were shrouded for security reasons.

Panic Among Civilians

So, too, were the positions of two South Korean Divisions, the Third and Capital. At full strength they would total about 20,000 men.

They had struck along the north-east coast within 40 miles of Soviet Siberia when masses of Red Chinese turned the tide and the order was given to withdraw.

The climactic point of collapse in the campaign sponsored by 53 non-Communist nations to smash Red Korean aggression and unify the divided country was accompanied by near-panic among Korean civilians.

Hordes of non-military Koreans—and probably some fifth columnists—were swarming southward across the frozen countryside. They crowded into every available vehicle or trudged through the snow and along roads and trails. Whole villages were on the move in queues of desperation—or opportunity in the case of disguised Reds.

No Fighting Reported

Anxiety was apparent in South Korea's capital of Seoul. Lines of refugees streamed southward from the city as the crowds entered from the north with their feeling of insecurity unabated. Korean President Syngman Rhee planned an appeal to halt the migration.

There was virtually no fighting contact between the Communists and Allied ground forces.

General MacArthur's headquarters said the Chinese Reds were advancing slowly. Their troop mass appeared to be turning toward the center of the peninsula where there is no Allied line.

The Chinese, largely an army that travels on its feet, moved slower in the west than the retreating U. S. Eighth Army did. The Chinese apparently are taking advantage of the period of no contact to reinforce and supply.

Mongolians In Korea

MacArthur's headquarters said two Mongolian cavalry divisions—with winter-hardened Mongol ponies and camel trains—had been spotted in Korea. They were described as "lightly armed . . . extremely mobile and capable of traversing the roughest terrain."

The cavalry divisions, smaller than the normal Chinese infantry division, were placed at between 4,000 and 7,000 men each. A normal Chinese division with supporting units totals 10,000 men.

MacArthur's headquarters said 27 Chinese divisions—about 270,000 men—now have crossed the Manchurian border. This was the vanguard of more than 1,000,000 troops MacArthur said the Chinese had committed to their Korean expeditionary force.

Blast Red Convoys

Allied warplanes roared out again Tuesday against Communist supply and troop convoys. Pilots reported by midday they had killed or wounded 550 Red troops in central Korea.

The retreat of the Eighth Army from its reformed line south of P'yongyang to the 38th parallel still was covered by security which prevented locating its precise positions.

But AP Correspondent Don Whitehead, newly returned to Tokyo from Eighth Army headquarters, said the Chinese hordes had lost all chance of trapping the Eighth Army north of 38.

Rose-Ann Shoppe open every evening until Christmas.

Chinese Reds Get No Favors At Radio City

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Just like ordinary visitors, Communist China's delegates to the United Nations had to stand in line, then pay for their tickets to Radio City Music Hall.

But they tried to veto the idea.

Gen. Wu Hsiu-Chuan, delegation head, and six of his staff members tried to "back" the long waiting line Saturday night at the big theater which customarily admits diplomats without charge.

When told all seats were occupied and they'd have to wait their turn, the delegates called loudly for the manager, Russell Downing.

Wu said they would even pay for the tickets provided they didn't have to stand in line. But Downing wouldn't budge. He reminded the Chinese Reds that the persons inside had paid, too. Then, irritated, he told Wu that his party not only would wait in line—but would have to pay admission.

The diplomats capitulated. They waited until seats were available and they paid their way in.

ASKS FARMERS TO RETURN SOME U.S. SUBSIDIES

Dallas, Dec. 12 (AP)—A college dean suggested to the American Farm Bureau federation today that it take the lead in a government-economy drive by relinquishing some of the money Uncle Sam pays to farmers.

This was one of several suggestions by W. I. Myers, dean of the college of agriculture of Cornell university. He was a principal speaker today at the 32nd annual federation convention opened.

"Defensible non-defense expenditures of government should be reduced sharply as an example of the self-discipline expected of citizens," the dean said.

"The American Farm Bureau federation might well take the lead in recommending reductions in government payments to farmers as part of a board program of reducing nonessential expenditures in all departments of government."

Opposes Price Controls

Myers, echoing views of several speakers in pre-convention conferences yesterday, expressed hope price controls can be avoided.

"Direct controls of prices and wages do not prevent inflation but only repress or defer it and tend to freeze production in the process," he said. "Although they can be a necessary evil in cases of all-out war, it would be most unfortunate to handicap our great productive resources by direct controls at the start of what promises to be a long, difficult endurance contest."

Myers' other anti-inflation recommendations: Increased industrial production to relieve shortages, higher taxes and housing and consumer credit controls.

usable only by small vessels, he noted, showing pictures of the effect of the 32-foot tide in that port. Large seagoing vessels must stay about four miles from the shore, he said, and all cargoes must be transferred to smaller vessels to be brought to shore.

Has Simple Alphabet

Pictures of the mountains in Korea showed them to have been denuded of timber.

Korea, like many other nations, has had its golden age, Doctor Allison said. In the 15th century Koreans developed their alphabet which has but one sound per letter, and is one of the world's simplest alphabets. Anyone who can read Korean can speak it, and vice versa, Doctor Allison said. The country printed the first known encyclopedia, and it was printed with movable type 40 years before Gutenberg printed the first Bible. In 1590 a Korean admiral defeated the Japanese by using the first ironclad vessels.

Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, vice president of the club, announced that the annual ladies' night Christmas party will be held at the Hotel Gettysburg next Monday, at 6:30 p.m. He also introduced Doctor Allison at Monday's session.

Dr. Kenneth Smoke, president of the club, reported that $52 had been raised to provide food parcels for the wife of a former Rotarian in Czechoslovakia.

HOLY YEAR TO BE EXTENDED

Vatican City, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Holy Year Jubilee which ends here on Christmas Eve will be extended through all of 1951 to the entire world.

Millions of Catholics who were unable to make a pilgrimage to Rome in the 1950 Holy Year will thereby be given the opportunity to gain the spiritual benefits in their own cities.

Vatican sources said today that extension of the Holy Year—which will apply to the whole world except Rome—will be the same as for the Holy Year now ending the 29th in the nearly 2,000 years of the church.

A papal bull proclaiming the extension officially, as was done at the end of the 1925 Holy Year, is expected to be published on Christmas Day. If the same procedure is adopted as 25 years ago the extension of Holy Year will begin January 1, 1951, and end a year later.

Mgr. Sergio Pignedoli, secretary of the Holy Year central committee, in a summary of the jubilee said that during 1950 throngs gathered in St. Peter's Basilica, but that in 1951, "the faithful will gather in their own temples."

High Egg Prices Squeeze U.S. Out

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—High prices have driven the Agriculture Department as well as some consumers out of the market for eggs.

Officials said today the department has bought none during the last two weeks and less than one half of one per cent of the production during the last two months.

For the year to date, the department has bought about six per cent of egg production under a price support program the agency buys eggs only when prices drop to about 25 cents a dozen in the mid-west, the surplus producing area of the country. Most of this year's purchases were made by midsummer.

Its buying has been limited to dried eggs. These eggs are processed chiefly from low quality, ungraded eggs for which there is no consumer market. Department buying has been heaviest in the late winter and spring when egg production is largest in this period.

AMERICAN LOOP VOTES FOR TWO PLAYOFF DATES

By JOE REICHLER

St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 12 (AP)—The American league today eliminated any possibility of a pennant being won, or lost, through a club's failure to play out the schedule because of rain or any other "act of God."

This precedent-shattering legislation was the most important news to come out of the opening sessions of the major league baseball meetings here.

The action preceded the unexpected decision by club owners not to renew the contract of Commissioner A. B. Chandler. Chandler filed to win a new contract vote in a secret session of owners last night.

The American, as well as the National league, also voted to eliminate the bonus rule and end the high school agreement. This, however, had foregone conclusion since the major leagues voted it out unanimously last week.

Trade Outfielders
The trading market produced only one deal. And that was a secondary nature. The busy Chicago White Sox, who started the pot boiling Monday by trading pitchers Bill Wright and Ray Scarborough to Boston for Allen Zarilla, Joe Dobson and Dick Littlefield, exchanged veteran outfielders with Washington. They sent 33-year-old Mike McCormick to the Nats for 34-year-old Eddie Stewart.

By unanimous vote, the American league decreed that after the close of the season, the president could assign two extra days for the playing off of postponed contests which might affect the championship. The resolution was submitted by the New York Yankees, who went to the final day before winning the flag in 1949 and the last three days before repeating the feat in '50.

Although only once, back in 1908, as a flag been decided because of the weather, baseball men long have agitated that open dates be provided for unplayed games.

The National league was expected to adopt a similar policy in its discussion of the subject today.

"This new arrangement was made in defiance of custom and in the interest of justice," President William Harridge of the American league explained.

The American league also voted to finish under lights any day game threatened by darkness. Last year this was done only in the final series between two clubs. The league also agreed to play rained out day games the same night with the visiting club's permission. Each club will be allowed four night games at home without the permission of the visiting club.

All-Star Game Set
Detroit requested and received permission from the National league to stage the 1951 All-Star game in conjunction with the celebration of that city's 250th anniversary. It was to have been the Philadelphia Phillies' turn.

Both leagues adopted a National defense service rule crediting players for each year's service in the armed forces.

Ford Frick was re-elected president of the National league for a four-year term at a salary increase. His new pay is reported to be $5,000 annually.

Steve O'Neill, manager of the Red Sox, was busy all day denying that he had made overtures for Washington's Sid Hudson.

"We did offer either Johnny Pesky or Vern Stephens for Lou Bisselle of the Philadelphia Athletics," O'Neill explained. "Jimmy Dykes (A's manager) said he would not consider trading or selling Bisselle to anybody. He countered with Alex Kellner. We didn't want him."

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Phog Allen, a man of many ideas and more words who insists he never "blasts" anyone, might have a little difficulty proving that he has only the most kindly thoughts toward the Amateur Athletic Union.

In the course of advocating a streamlined basketball rules committee, the veteran Kansas coach said yesterday the AAU boys and other allied groups should be eliminated.

"The AAU is just a bunch of quadrennial oceanic hitch-hikers," he argued. "Later he added that AAU basketball players 'are pros—but the AAU gets 25 cents for issuing the card.'"

In other words, Phog doesn't like those guys who are partly responsible for failing to remodel the game of basketball according to the Allen ideas. "Some of those ideas, we might add, sound good from here. For instance Phog insists 'It's the silliest thing in the world to give the opposition the ball when you score.'"

And he objects to the kind of referee who calls a foul because "I detected evil in your eye."

We also agree with Clair Bee's moderate complaint: "I like to get my breath between plays and get an idea of what's going on."

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Bradley C. basketball followers are agog over the sharpshoot of Fred Schlichtman, who canned 18 baskets in 39 shots in the first three games.

He uses the same kind of two-hand shot that Dike Eddleman introduced to big time college ball from Centralia, Ill., high school. "The Rangers hockey roster includes a Welshman, Jack Evans, and a Finn, Pentti Lund, who can cuss the referees in their native tongues."

Harry von Kersburg, former Harvard All-America who checks officials for the Eastern conference, says he saw the best of officiating ever this football season.

But he still believes the ECAC should retire some of the older men who can't keep pace with modern football, and he likes that fifth-man idea.

Five sophomore footballers at Fordham have just heard from their draft boards and will be departing in June. There goes that "comeback."

MOUNTS BOW TO GEORGETOWN 5 BY 87-62 SCORE

A big, fast and power-laden

Georgetown university basketball squad laced the Mt. St. Mary's college cagers 87-62 Monday evening as the new Mount gymnasium was officially dedicated. The new gym has a capacity of 2,500.

Early in the game the Mount aggression gave their opponents quite a battle. Georgetown, now unbeaten in three starts, got off to a 6-0 lead but goals by Ryan and Gilday tied the count at 8-8.

The score was tied again at 11-11 and then the Mountaineers moved ahead 13-11 on a goal by Gilday and the lead went to 14-11 on a free toss by Cosgrove.

A set shot by Sullivan and a jump toss by Hekker sent the Hoyas back in front after which they were never headed. At half time the Mounts trailed 45-23.

The closest Pete Caruso's team could get in the last half was 15 points when the score stood 71-56 with four minutes remaining.

The defeat marked the second against three wins for Mt. St. Mary's. On Thursday the Marylanders come here to meet the Gettysburg college dribblers. Tonight they play at Elizabethtown.

"No Business" But He Made $84,000

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—A New Jersey man told Senators investigating gambling and racketeering today his income last year may have totaled $84,000 but he had no business.

The witness was Salvatore Moretti of Demarest, N. J., who now is under bond in both New York and New Jersey on gambling charges. He refused to answer many questions put to him by the Senate Crime Investigating committee.

He said that to do so might tend to incriminate him. Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) of the committee told him "you can expect to be cited for contempt" for having refused to answer certain questions which Kefauver said were "very pertinent." He also informed Moretti that he would remain under subpoena.

Veteran York Quintet Tops Warriors In Opener 42-23

A seasoned and well-balanced York high basketball team handed the Gettysburg high dribblers a 42-23 setback here Monday evening before approximately 800 fans in the opening game of the season for the Warriors.

Don Cockley's defending District 3 PIAA champs, with four veterans in the lineup, led the entire way against the inexperienced but scrappy Gettysburg outfit. The victory marked the third in a row for the Bearcats.

Both coaches used their entire uniformed squads throughout the game in seeking to uncover their strongest combinations.

The Warriors opened with Harriel, Williams, Saunders, Skinner and Pisco, and only Harriel is a letterman from last season.

Goals by Martin and Rohrbaugh gave York a 4-0 advantage before Harriel scored for the Warriors after three and one-half minutes. A foul by Skinner made the count 4-3 which was the closest Gettysburg ever got to overtaking their opponents. Sauder and Hal Brown landed goals for the visitors before Saunders followed a foul. A goal by Rohrbaugh, followed by a foul by Crist, ended the scoring in the initial quarter which found York holding a 10-5 advantage.

Visitors In Command

The speedy and aggressive Bearcat combination kept the game under control the remainder of the contest. In the second period Harriel, Skinner and Saunders tallied goals for the locals while a pair by Martin, and singles by H. Brown, Geyer and Way enabled York to hike its advantage to 21-11 at half time.

Coach Forney's outfit is destined to improve with more experience. It has plenty of height but showed a lack of scoring punch in its initial appearance. York lived up to pre-game predictions and should be a powerful contender for its fourth straight district title.

Jayvees Bow

Ross Sach's jayvee team collapsed in the second and third periods to bow to the unbeaten York reserves 26-21 in the preliminary game. The local team displayed plenty of aggressiveness which augurs well for a successful campaign.

The Warriors next meet Red Lion in a twin bill here Friday evening.

Old Maids' Convention: An enjoyable entertainment, "The Old Maids' Convention," was given by the ladies of the Reformed church, in Xavier Opera House on Friday evening. It was given before a large audience, who seemed to enjoy the fun greatly. The net proceeds were $102.43.

Locomobile Frightens Horse: On Tuesday of last week as Mrs. Harry Jacobs, of Paradise township, was on her way to visit her parents, and while driving down the Gettysburg pike, met a locomobile, which frightened her horse, causing it to run away, wrecking the buggy and injuring Mrs. Jacobs to some extent. The child which accompanied her escaped unhurt. It seems from the number of runaways caused by the horseless carriages that driving steeds do not fancy the new invention.—East Berlin News

Death's Doings: Rev. Father Thomas J. Flemming, of Bonneauville, died on Friday morning of consumption, from which disease he had suffered for some time, aged 71 years. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at Bonneauville. Interment at Mountpleasant, Pa., on Thursday, December 13.

The church at Bonneauville was crowded with members of the congregation at the services yesterday morning. A large number of priests belonging to this diocese took part in the service. Rev. ## Today's Talk

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

IN TRUST AND FRIENDLINESS

It is proverbial that animals are, as a rule, none too friendly toward each other, if there is something that one animal might want that the other one also might want. Often in the shape of food. But I read recently of a dog that had fallen into a rocky crevice, and his friendly companion of better days took a portion of his food each day and dropped it to him.

Another striking example that I noted recently. In the first place I have noted that squirrels are rather selfish, like a lot of us humans, and drive away another squirrel, when coming near, while eating a morsel. I have watched them for hours at my summer camp. The red variety are especially greedy, but not so much the beautiful grey variety that I feed from my city study window each day. Well, the other day I looked out and on my window sill were two squirrels, one a grey and one a black squirrel, lying cozily asleep together like twins!

If only the people of the world lived together in trust and friendliness, what a world this would be! There must have been a purpose in creating a variety of human beings, for at the core they are all human—in fundamental thoughts, aspirations, and hope. Have we not had an example of the waste and futility of war over a long period of history, and have we not learned that nothing but tears and tragedy are its aftermath? It costs a nation nothing to try trust and friendliness, no matter how far apart in ideas and procedures.

We keep those people longest in our hearts and memory whom we both trust and with whom we establish friendliness. Said Stevenson: "What can be more encouraging than to find the friend who was welcome at one age, still welcome at another?" What a precious baggage is a friend in whom we put our trust! For how long could we remain happy without at least one friend in whom we have perfect trust and confidence?

To get this perfect trust, however, from a friend, it must be mutual. Friendliness toward another is no one-sided affair. It's equal!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will "talk on the subject: "The Other Fellow."

TIME

Sixty seconds to the minute,
Sixty minutes to the hour.
None to put another in it
Has the wisdom or the power,
Morning, noon, and night for sleeping,
These for rich or poor a day,
None an hour can choose for keeping,
None can hold an hour away.

None one day from friends can borrow,
As with money's often done.
There will be more time tomorrow?
That is guaranteed to none.
Some have thought, for they have said it,
With the morning they would wake,
Time cannot be had on credit,
No one's promise will it take.

Day by day runs man's investment
"Now" is sure, but "soon" is not.
Every day is for his best meant,
Less! The record shows a blot.
This day his! Tomorrow maybe.
None can bargain with his fate.
There may not another day be
For the things we think can wait.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. ## HOT, FIERY GAS Stomach Like a Furnace

A Gettysburg man said recently that his stomach used to burn like a "gas factory!" That is, when he ate a meal it seemed to turn right into hot gas. He was always bloated, had gas pains daily. But now this man says he is FREE of STOMACH GAS and he says the chance is due to taking CERTA-VIN. His meals agree with him.

CERTA-VIN is a new formula. Taken before meals it works with your food, expels the gas, and thus you get the fullest good out of your meals. It contains Ten Great Herbs, plus vitamin B and Iron. Their children are Esther, Clyde, Glenn, Bernard, Shirley, Nadine, Ronald, David and Bruce. Clyde is married to the former Patsy Runkles of Frederick and they are the parents of two children, Sandra Lee and Edward Lee.

The dinner was served by candlelight and the centerpiece of the dining room table was a silver ring of white roses. There was also a three tier wedding cake, topped with silver bells and the numerals "25". The guests of honor were the recipients of many gifts of silver which were opened and displayed.

Children Entertain

Clarence E. Crouse, brother of Mr. Crouse, served as toastmaster and a program was presented by the children of the couple. Clyde Crouse served as master of ceremonies and Esther Crouse served as accompanist for the musical selections, on the Hammond organ. The entire group then joined in the singing of Christmas carols.

Guests in addition to the immediate family included Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Worley, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Worley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Worley, Mr. and Mrs. George Worley, Mrs. Thurman Helbride and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Crouse, all of town; Mr. and Mrs. George W. # Another Critic Has Earned "HST" Letter

Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 12 (AP)—Margaret Truman's singing brought applause from two encores last night from an appreciative audience of 1,500. But a newspaper critic termed her voice "not suited to operatic arias or orchestral accompaniment."

Miss Truman was guest soloist with the Chattanooga symphony orchestra.

Critic Ruth Golden of the Chattanooga Times commented: "Miss Truman is a gracious artist x x x and she was at all times winning and charming. Unfortunately Miss Truman's voice is not suited to operatic arias or orchestral accompaniment."

However, Mrs. Golden added: "It is to be hoped that she will be a patient student until her voice develops more maturity."

FIRE EQUIPMENT BURNS

Lehighton, Pa., Dec. 12 (AP)—The rural Carbon county community of Trachsville, population 250, is without a fire house and fire fighting equipment today. The one-story frame firehouse and two pieces of equipment, including a relatively new pumper, were destroyed by fire yesterday. The blaze had gained such headway by the time the volunteer firemen arrived that they were unable to get the trucks out of the burning building.

Christmas plays, "The Guiding Light" and "The Best Gift," will be presented by the Children's department of St. James Reformed church Sunday school, along the Harney road on Saturday, December 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the church. Rehearsals for the plays will be held Wednesday and Friday, December 13 and 15, at 7 o'clock at the church.

Thursday evening at 9 o'clock the Littlestown Men's chorus will make a recording from the stage of the Littlestown high school auditorium in conjunction with radio station WHVR, Hanover. # SOUTHEAST ASIA IS WORRIED BY CHINESE REDS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The Chinese Communist advance in Korea "has cast a shadow of fear over southeast Asia."

That is the central note of a dispatch from Seymour Topping, AP correspondent reporting from Hanoi, French Indo-China. Simultaneously another AP staffman, Kenneth Likes, cables in similar tone from Saigon, Indo-China.

The consensus of military and diplomatic observers in Hanoi is that if China secures Korea she will then turn southward to countries rich in resources she needs. These observers feel that the French and British armies in southeast Asia aren't ready to cope with a massed attack by China.

Cause for Gloom

Certainly the situation is grave enough to warrant gloom on the part of the colonial powers in some instances.

However, it strikes me that one of their greatest weaknesses is that they ARE colonial powers.

The terms "colonialism" and "imperialism" are anathema to the peoples throughout Asia. In many instances the "mother countries" are facing a fierce resentment against colonialism by peoples who want their independence.

A case in hand is that of French Indo-China where the authorities are battling a rebellion. Now it is true that heavy Communist influences are fostering the revolts, and that manpower and material help are being sent over the border into Indo-China by the Chinese.

Seek Sovereignty

However, the point is that the Reds are taking advantage of the anti-imperialist feeling among the natives by promising independence. The natives are ready to grab at any straw which they think may give them sovereignty.

Colonialism has existed so many centuries that it's difficult to accept the fact that it is fast on its way out. The days when a "mother" country could impose her will on the peoples of another race are gone forever.

Of course, it is going to take time to do away entirely with colonial systems. There are dependencies in some backward parts of the world which are quite incapable of standing on their own feet. They need help. But that in-

Widow Asks For Gunman's Money

Altoona, Pa., Dec. 12 (AP)—When the Bullet-riddled body of a man identified as a gunman in an $18,000 robbery was found in a field near Harrisburg two years ago, police discovered $1,000 strapped to his body.

The man's widow, Mrs. Margaret Longden, of Bridgeport, Conn., now wants the Blair county court to give the $1,000 to her.

The body of her husband, James, found a few hours after Daniel Lamont, of Altoona, was robbed of $18,000 at his home. Lamont later identified Longden as one of the two men who robbed him. The sheriff's office here has kept the money found on Longden. Police have never solved the mystery of the slaying.

Harrisburg, Dec. 12 (AP)—A rookie state policeman's alertness resulted in the capture Sunday night of a pair of armed Rockview penitentiary escapees who earlier had slugged and robbed a motorist.

Pvt. John Lipka said he noticed the pair walking along a suburban street as he was taking pictures of the escapees to the local county jail. They surrendered meekly when he asked them if they were from Rockview.

creasingly will be made available in a disinterested way.

What Dr. Bunch Said

Apropos of this question of colonialism, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, 1950 winner of the Nobel peace prize, had something to say on the subject in his traditional Nobel lecture yesterday in Oslo, Norway. He warned the West that there must be "an awakening of the incontestable fact that the far away, little known and little understood peoples of Asia and Africa, who constitute the majority of the world's population, are no longer passive and no longer to be ignored." At another point he declared: "There must be a liquidation of colonialism."

That is the plain writing on the wall. It is particularly applicable to southeast Asia, where the call for independence is the battle cry of numerous peoples. Small wonder that there is "a shadow of fear" over that troubled part of the world.

YUGOSLAV AID IS UP TO HOUSE

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—An obvious American bid for the friendship of Marshal Tito's followers, legislation to give food to drought-stricken Yugoslavia, came before the House today.

It passed the Senate yesterday by a 60 to 21 vote. Passage by the House appeared certain, probably tomorrow.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would let the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) dip into its funds for up to $50,000,000 to provide food for the Yugoslavs. Quarterly reports to Congress would be made by the State department, which would have overall charge of the aid program.

The House measure would authorize an appropriation of $38,000,000 up to next June 30. ECA already has spent $12,000,000 in Yugoslavia.

In recommending its approval, the House Foreign Affairs committee tied to it a requirement that Yugoslavia give "full and continuous publicity" to the United States' assistance and permit U. S. supervision of the food distribution.

PA. TEACHERS LAUNCH DRIVE FOR MORE PAY

Harrisburg, Dec. 12 (AP)—A powerful move was underway today to boost salary levels of Pennsylvania's 50,000 public school teachers by an average $600 a year.

The proposal was advanced by the Pennsylvania State Education association's committee on legislation. The committee recommended an upward revision in both present minimum and maximum teacher salary levels in the state.

It also urged the 1951 legislature be asked to increase the maximum state school subsidy from $3,450 to $4,000 a year to help pay the cost. Such a subsidy increase would add an estimated $92,000,000 to Pennsylvania's $224,000,000 biennial school aid bill.

Don't Say Where To Get Money
The PSEA's tax study committee, estimating the cost of boosting the salary levels at $92,000,000, did not make any recommendation as to how the legislature should raise the money other than to say a "broad base" tax program should be adopted.

The legislative committee's proposals will go before the entire PSEA membership for ratification at its annual convention here December 27-29. If approved, the proposed increase will be submitted to the 1951 legislature for action.

The PSEA's membership includes nearly all of the 60,000 public school teachers in the Commonwealth. The committee said the recommended salary increases are necessary "because of the rapidly increased cost of living."

Proposed Changes
Under the committee's proposal, the minimum starting salary for teachers with standard and college certificates would go from the present $2,000 to $2,400. The minimum for teachers with masters degrees would go from $2,200 to $2,400.

The new maximum would go from $3,450 to $4,000 for teachers with standard certificates; from $3,800 to $4,400 for teachers with college degrees, and from $4,000 to $4,800 for teachers with masters degrees.

Teachers making less than the proposed new maximums would be given $200 annual increases until they reached the new levels. A double increment was suggested, however, for the 1951-52 school term to provide what the committee termed "immediate relief" to teachers.

New maximums also were proposed for district superintendents, principals and supervisory principals.

County and district superintendents in areas with less than 100 teachers would receive $3,000 a year under the proposal, while those in areas with 100 to 299 teachers would get $9,000, and those with 300 or more would get $10,000.

Principals would be eligible for maximum salaries ranging from $5,000 to $6,600 depending on the size of the school.

The 1949 legislature authorized an average $600 boost in maximum teacher salaries at an approximate extra cost of about $30,000,000 to the state in additional subsidies.

Santa and the COWBOY

AP Newsfeatures

By LUCRECE HUDGINS

SYNOPSIS: In Santa Land, Santa Claus is troubled by Jindians, who are not good and friendly like Indians today. George Sanders, 7, also known as "Kid Buckaroo, Terror of the West," flies on the back of a bird to Santa Land to help Santa. He arrives just as the Jindians have stolen Dasher, Santa's best reindeer. Santa's helpers think Bucky is a Jindian.

CHAPTER SEVEN

BUCKY TO THE RESCUE

"Kid Buckaroo, Terror of the West!" exclaimed Tweedleknives when Bucky gave his name. "What kind of a Jindian is that?"

"I'm not a Jindian," protested Bucky. He was close to tears. "I'm a cowboy."

"Cowboy!" The Santa Land workers shouted. "Whoever heard of a cowboy with no guns, no horse—not even a horse?"

Bucky told them his story. How he'd heard they had Indians at Santa Land and he'd come to fight them. How he'd lost all his weapons on the way but had come on anyway to help if he could.

"You do have Indians here, don't you?" he pleaded. "Real fighting Indians?"

"Not Indians, Jindians," snapped Tweedleknives. "They are silly creatures. I'm not afraid of them."

"Swoosh! Zine!" a slender arrow shot from the dark, lifted Tweedleknives' night cap from his head and pinned it to the ground ten yards away.

Tweedleknives' legs shook. "I'm only scared half to death," he growled. Another arrow whipped from the dark and landed at Santa's feet. The fairy folk screamed with fear and ran to hide. Bucky cried, "Look, it has a message on it!"

Santa picked up the arrow. Yes, there was a paper fastened to its tip. Santa unrolled it and read: "Us come to make powwow."

Santa put his arm around Bucky. "Maybe you have brought us luck," he smiled. "I think the Jindians want to make peace. Come get warm in the house. Tweedleknives will bring in the Jindians when they come. I hope they have Dasher with them."

Mrs. Claus met them at the door. "You poor boy!" she exclaimed when Santa had told her who Bucky was. Now a cowboy is a pretty tough character as everyone knows but Mrs. Claus didn't care about cowboys. She just cared about the real boy underneath. She washed Bucky's face and hands. She hugged him and warmed him and finally gave him a walloping dinner—bigger and better than Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner rolled into one.

And the wonderful old lady was just starting him to bed when Patrick Tweedleknives leaped into the room crying, "Here they come!"

A huge feather-dressed Jindian entered the cottage. He was followed by a young boy solemn and handsome, with a single feather in his hand band.

Bucky's eyes popped with excitement. Real Jindians! Warlike Jindians; Oh, if he had his weapons now he would show them something!

The Jindian chief spoke. "Me Chief Hurricane. This Lonesome Boy, my son."

Santa said, "I'm glad you have come. We will have peace."

Chief Hurricane shook his head. "No peace," he grunted. "We come to say we steal all your deer. Burn your shops. Chase you away. We fix things so nobody have Christmas again."

Santa's heart was filled with sorrow. He knew the Jindians were fierce and powerful. What could he do to stop them?

Suddenly a voice cried, "Oh, no you won't!"

Chief Hurricane turned in astonishment. Bucky stood with hands on his hips glaring at the great Jindian chief.

"I'm Kid Buckaroo, Terror of the West," he snapped. "I can outsize you and outshoot you. Now you just get out of here."

Santa turned pale. Mrs. Claus clasped her hands. Tweedleknives swallowed half his tongue. And Bucky, well, to tell the truth, Bucky's legs were so weak with fright he was ready to topple over.

"Hal!" shouted Chief Hurricane. "Prove it!"

Santa turned Bucky's face up. "Can you prove it?" he asked softly.

Bucky tried to speak. But his voice wouldn't come. He tried to whisper but couldn't even find a whisper. Finally he just nodded his head. But oh! how he wished he'd never spoken at all!

Says Ike Koch Is Faking Insanity

Augsburg, Germany, Dec. 12 (AP)—A doctor testified Monday he believes Ike Koch is faking insanity to escape his trial for concentration camp atrocities.

The "Red Witch of Buchenwald" was carried from her jail cell to Augsburg hospital in a screaming frenzy last night.

Her jail warden reported she shrieked, "I am guilty. I am a sinner," as she was taken from her cell. Two doctors told the court today they did not regard Frau Koch as insane.

Her trial on charges of causing murder and atrocities at the Buchenwald concentration camp continued today despite her absence as medical authorities investigated her mental condition.

MAY DROP TRAINS

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Dec. 12 (AP)—The Public Utility commission is expected to hold another hearing before ruling on the Pennsylvania railroad's application to discontinue operation of two daily passenger trains between Wilkes-Barre and Sunbury. The trains are No. 509, which leaves Wilkes-Barre at 9:40 a.m. and No. 512, which departs from Sunbury at 4 p.m.

Sparkling glass beads, mixed with paint to which they impart a luminous glow after the paint wears down, are being used for traffic markers.

SAYS CONTROLS WILL FOLLOW "EMERGENCY"

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) predicted today that any national emergency declared soon by President Truman will be only the forerunner of price and wage controls next month.

George, who heads the Senate finance committee, told a reporter he thinks the time is fast approaching when economic controls will be clamped down. He predicted the President will act during January at the latest.

Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), chairman of a Senate armed services preparedness subcommittee, said the time already has arrived for such controls. Johnson was one of many members of Congress who have been urging immediate action.

Other Developments

Administration officials have conceded that wage-price controls are inevitable but there has been no authoritative estimate on how soon the machinery can be set up to handle them.

As all signs pointed to a speedup in home front mobilization, there were these other developments.

1. President Truman was considering a nationwide broadcast within the next few days to tell the American people of the need for drastic action. There were indications this might be linked to a declaration of a national emergency which may come this week.

2. Chairman Maybank (D-S.C.) of the Senate banking committee said in a Charleston, S. C., speech last night that the Commerce Department probably will slap stringent controls on essential defense materials shortly. He said this may mean restrictions early next year on what manufacturers can make with materials allotted them.

Cut Rubber Use

3. One new regulation which will have this effect was issued by the National Production Authority (NPA) yesterday. NPA ordered a 28 per cent cut in the use of natural rubber in automobile tires in the first two months of next year, as compared with November quotas. The order will mean fewer new tires and more recaps.

15-Year Old Boy Steals Birds To Give Them Freedom From Zoo

London, Dec. 12 (AP)—The gentle St. Francis of Assisi, who loved all animals, and called them brother, might have been the proper judge for a 15-year-old boy who stood in a juvenile court, and stammered and couldn't defend himself.

According to the statutes what the boy had done was stealing—and that in a rather big way. Over the course of months he had crept by night into the London zoo. With pliers he cut wires and took live birds—Egyptian geese, a peregrine falcon, jackdaws and owls.

But he didn't sell them, or trade them for something a 15-year-old boy finds useful. He carried the creatures a long way across the big town, and freed them in St. James park, some to swim in the park lagoon, which is very close to the king's Buckingham palace.

After a time the boy was caught.

committee was told by Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert M. Lovett that more military funds than the $18,000,000,000 contained in a pending bill will be sought from Congress for use in the fiscal year ending June 30. These would be in addition to funds asked for the new Congress for the year beginning July 1.

5. The President had on his desk—as requested—a Congressionally-approved bill to extend the present control law until March 31. The House gave it final approval yesterday.

To Confer Wednesday
6. Mr. Truman arranged to meet tomorrow with a group of Congressional leaders of both parties to ask them how far they think he ought to go toward all-out mobilization of the nation's resources to meet the critical military situation in Korea and the ever-present threat of Communist aggression elsewhere. The President spent most of yesterday in conferences with top mobilization officials, but no decisions were announced.

7. Secretary of Labor Tobin called a new 12-man labor-management-agriculture conference to cope with fast-developing manpower problems of the war and defense program. Tobin, as the Truman cabinet's chief mobilizer of manpower, would be concerned in any national emergency declaration which involved suspension of the eight-hour day in defense plants.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told reporters tomorrow's White House conference will be the sort of real consultation on issues which the Republicans have been demanding.

The speaker was introduced by Clarence E. Bartholomew, member of the Lions club and a director of the county crippled children's society. President Radford Lippy presided with 110 Lions and guests in attendance.
